Experience

since 2024
Senpo sp. z o.o. sp.k.
Webmaster

Management and development of several WordPress-based eCommerce platforms, encompassing both daily administration and the implementation of new features tailored to business needs. Responsible for performance optimization, error elimination, and ensuring the smooth operation of the services. Close collaboration with the marketing department to implement sales strategies and enhance user experience.

since 2022
Self-learning
Python Developer

Thanks to efficient work organization, I have been able to develop as a Python Developer. I built an application using Tkinter to monitor and control loaned records, replacing paper registers. I then extended it with Django to unify various registers kept in notebooks and Excel.

For personal projects, I developed, among others, an application in Kivy for calculating travel costs based on fuel prices, as well as a game in PyGame inspired by Icy Tower. Currently, I am developing a full-stack project using Django REST Framework, Next.js, and Celery to manage household bills, synchronizing with the most popular eBooks. My projects are available on GitHub.

2020 - 2024
Starostwo Powiatowe w Poznaniu
'Pojazd' and 'Kierowca' systems coordinator for CEPiK

I began my career as a civil servant in the Department of Communication, where I was responsible for day-to-day client service in vehicle registration. Due to my strong dedication, I was quickly promoted to Deputy Branch Manager, handling corporate clients. In early 2022, thanks to my computer proficiency, I was promoted to the aforementioned position, where I resolved issues related to vehicle registration systems, prepared reports, and managed strictly administrative tasks.

2005 - 2019
Polish National Team
Canoe Athlete

During almost 15 years of professional sports career as a canoeist, I won many trophies and medals of the Polish, European and World Championships. In addition to awards, I gained a lot of invaluable knowledge during this time. Sport has shaped me as a strong and responsible man. It developed in me many positive characteristics such as being goal-oriented, perseverance and conscientiousness. It taught me how to work in a group, avoid conflicts and solve problems. On the other hand, taking part in the world's largest competitions under the pressure of the environment developed in me a high resistance to stress.
